Filing Description:

This filing is to introduce a new exclusion form (HS 23 76). There has been growing attention to the emergence of Transportation Network Companies (TNCs), also known as ride-sharing service providers, which generally enable peer-to-peer arrangement of vehicular transportation services, often on very short notice generally utilizing online-enabled smart phone applications or digital networks. This type of service typically operated in part by matching drivers with passengers.

In order to address these new exposures related to transportation network and on-demand delivery services, our Commercial Auto program will also be adding this as a mandatory exclusion.

Coverage Impact

HS 23 76 03 17 – Public or Livery Passenger Conveyance Exclusion

There has been growing attention to the emergence of Transportation Network Companies (TNCs), also known as ride-sharing service providers, which generally enable peer-to-peer arrangement of vehicular transportation services, often on very short notice generally utilizing online-enabled smart phone applications or digital networks. This type of service typically operates by matching drivers with passengers who request a ride via an online-enabled smart phone application or digital network. Popular providers of such services include Uber and Lyft. While our Umbrella and Hired Auto and Non-Owned Auto Endorsements are generally designed to provide insurance protection for the auto exposures arising out of commercial activities, ridesharing services potentially create new exposures that may not be currently contemplated at the inception of the policy, particularly for risks that are yet to be appropriately classified and rated. For example, low barriers to entry may allow insureds to provide these services with no specific driver education or professional training in transporting passengers for profit.

In order to address these new exposures related to transportation network services, our Commercial Auto program will also be adding this as a mandatory exclusion, as introduced by ISO and we will be adding this to our Auto exposures represented in our Hired and Non-Owned Auto Endorsement.
